

CALL FOR ADVERTISERS:

SOUTH AFRICAN JOURNAL OF WILDLIFE RESEARCH

The South African Journal of Wildlife Research is the foremost peer-reviewed scientific wildlife publication in Africa, covering a wide variety of issues pertaining to wildlife management. A product of the South African Wildlife Management Association, it is published twice a year and reaches a readership of more than 500. This includes both local and foreign wildlife managers, academics and wildlife owners. The journal is also available online in electronic format to subscribers.

The journal is produced in B5 format and black and white advertisements may be taken out for a full page (206 × 142 mm) at a cost of R1200, or half a page, either spanning two columns (101 × 142 mm) or a full column (206 × 69 mm), at a cost of R600. The images must be submitted as high-quality JPEG files at a resolution of at least 300 dpi.

This cost excludes design and layout and is based on a fully designed advertisement, fitting the specifications, being submitted electronically to the editor.
